Rolling on the River

Mardi Gras Season on Louisiana's Northshore

Even though New Orleans is known worldwide for this event, Mardi Gras parades are hosted by many communities in Louisiana. The Northshore, across Lake Pontchartrain from New Orleans, offers a variety of family-friendly parades throughout Mardi Gras season.

One of the Northshore's most culturally relevant parades is the Krewe of Tchefuncte. This krewe puts its own spin on the classic Mardi Gras parade. Instead of tractor-pulled floats rolling down streets in area towns, this krewe decorates boats and rolls down the beautiful Tchefuncte River. While waiting for the parade, spectators can enjoy a picturesque view of the town of Madisonville, the Tchefuncte River and the historic Madisonville Lighthouse.

This parade, which has been rolling for thirty-plus years, promises fun for the entire family.

This year, Louisiana's Northshore and the Krewe of Tchefuncte has partnered to put together an extraordinary Mardi Gras experience. One lucky person will win spots for two riders on the Tchefuncte Queen in the Krewe of Tchefuncte Mardi Gras parade.

Winner's Package Includes

Two spots on the Tchefuncte Queen royal boat float

Two ball tickets for the Krewe of Tchefuncte Mardi Gras Ball

A $300 shopping spree at Bayou Country Village in Slidell

Three-night accommodations at the Best Western Slidell
